INTECH ENGINEER ACHIEVES HIGHEST LEVEL OF CERTIFICATION FROM NATIONAL INSTRUMENTS™

MELBOURNE, Florida, March 1, 2007 - Intech, a leading systems integration company and a Certified National Instruments Alliance Partner, is proud to announce the certification of one of their engineers, Eric Finley, as a Certified LabVIEW™ Architect. Certified LabVIEW Architect is the highest level of certification available from National Instruments, and represents a master's level of experience with NI products and technologies. Eric joins Intech's Doug Dieruff as two of approximately ninety Certified LabVIEW Architects worldwide.

Headquartered in Melbourne on Florida's Space Coast, Intech develops and deploys custom, computer-based solutions using state-of-the-art technologies for customers in Florida and throughout the United States. Intech has been a Certified Alliance Partner since 1995 and has maintained an on-site Certified Training Center since 2000.
